

Lyrics - I Thank You

I thank you for being so real and touching me;
Letting me see what a beautiful world, this world is.
I thank you for all that's revealed, while you're changing me;
Opening my time-blinded eyes to see
my glorious possibilities.

Maybe it's true. Some folks can't see just what's going on.
They need the proof that a beautiful world, this world is.
I thank you for showing the way, and setting them free;
Opening their time-blinded eyes to see a wonderful reality.

[Bridge:]

Oh, and I, I pray for strength to keep seeing just like this.
Oh! That I can say yes! And move out the way,
And give God It's full sway.
Oh! I thank you for being so real, and changing me;
Opening my time-blinded eyes to see
my glorious possibilities.

[piano solo]

[Bridge]

Oh, and I, I pray for strength to keep seeing just like this.
Oh! That I can say yes! And move out the way,
And give God It's full sway.
Oh! I thank you for being so real, and changing me;
Opening my time-blinded eyes; opening my time-blinded eyes.
God opens up my time-blinded eyes to see, to see
my glorious possibilities.
